POISONED COFFEE.

Family of Jerry Stubbfield Had a Narrow Escape at Murray

An attempt was made last Sunday night to poison the family of Uncle Jerry Stubbfield, consisting of himself and Albert J. Stubbfield and wife, says the Murray Ledger.

Some time during Sunday night some friend sneaked to the house of Uncle Jerry Stubbfield and put poison in the coffee pot.

At breakfast Albert Stubbfield noticed that the coffee had a bitter taste as did Mrs. Stubbfield, his wife. The second sip satisfied Albert that something was wrong. They emptied the coffee into the slop pail, and made another pot of coffee, of which the three partook.

After breakfast Albert took the slop to his dogs, which were hearty. They devoured the slop with avidity, and in five minutes were a writhing mass, having fits and convulsions. Four of the dogs soon vomited and got better, but the others continued their symptoms.

The doctors say it is a certain fact that they were poisoned. Further, an examination of some of the coffee proved that it did contain poison. Excitement is at the highest pitch. The party is known and a mob stalked off, in spite of the protests of the family.

VISITED HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Walter Freeman a Visitor at the County Jail.

Mrs. Walter Freeman, of Benton, came to the city today and called on her husband, who is in jail here on three charges of felony. He was brought here with Horace Powell for safe keeping two weeks ago, it being rumored that their friends were preparing to release them.

Freeman is said to have consumption, and County Physician Penley recommended his release, but it has since been learned that he belongs to a bad gang, and it would be dangerous to release him, especially if he knew he was going to die. He might, it is claimed by many, spend his short remaining time in killing his enemies.

His wife paid him a pleasant call, and is "going to use every effort to aid him in his escape, but it is not his fault that he is successful as the attorney do not seem to regard it with favor.

A NEW BAD PLACE.

Officer Crow Says there's Nothing to Equal It.

Officer James Crow says there is a locality fast coming into notice as a rival of the locality near Ninth and Washington streets. This is in the vicinity of Eighth and Ninth and Husbands streets, where some of the most worthless and dissolute negroes in the city have settled. They are beginning to occasion the authorities no end of trouble and yesterday afternoon Annie Singleton and Cora Robertson, colored, had a knock down and drag out fight in the street and had to be arrested.

They were this morning fined $5 and costs each in the police court, and everything possible will be done to break up the nest of degenerates.

MARRIED IN METROPOLIS.

Mrs. Nina Green, of 626 South Fourth street, the city, went to Metropolis yesterday afternoon and there met her fiance, Mr. J. M. Tolleson, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., to whom she was married. They had been old sweethearts for quite a while, and arrived last evening on the Fowler, and will hereafter reside here. Mr. Tolleson is a brother of Mr. Jeff Tolleson, of the city.

INSTITUTE WORK.

There was much of interest in the Colored Teachers' Institute this forenoon. The work considered was arithmetic, which was freely discussed by a number of teachers, a branch being elucidated. The institute is being very well attended.

WHAT'S NEXT AT THE ARCADE?

"BRING PROOFS"

Was the Demand Made by Dreyfus Today Upon His Accusers.

PHRASES ARE MEANINGLESS

The Interest Today Centered in the Recall and Questioning of Mercier.

LABOR IRRITATES THE GENERAL

RENNES, France, Aug. 24.—True to his statement that he would have more questions to put to Gen. Mercier, M. Labori at today's session of the Dreyfus court-martial got Mercier again on the stand and drove him to such pass that for a moment it looked as though a personal encounter would take place between the men.

One of the first witnesses was Col. Maurel, president of the '94 court-martial, who testified he had seen only one of the documents of the secret dossier. He refused to tell which one and said Mercier probably knew more about the matter than he did.

Mercier was then called to the stand. Labori began to question him concerning his part in bringing secret evidence before the court-martial without knowledge of the accused. "Did you order the secret dossier presented to the first court-martial?" asked Labori. "Yes," replied Mercier. "I take the entire responsibility." He said there was other evidence against the prisoner at the time of his arrest besides the dossier. Labori asked why this evidence was concealed from the president, but Mercier hotly refused to reply. Labori questioned Mercier about the contents of the dossier, and Mercier insisted Dreyfus was in position to deliver the documents named.

President Jouhaux here tried to check any repetition of the old testimony, whereupon Labori, referring dramatically to the shot which caused him to be absent a week, insisted on a full explanation. He asked Mercier about the alleged 35,000,000 franc syndicate working in behalf of Dreyfus, which the witness in his first testimony had spoken of. Mercier said: "Dreyfus told me informally of the existence of the syndicate." Labori asked: "How told you formally?" Mercier protested against the lawyer's manner, saying he was not the accused. "What do you want of me?" demanded Labori heatedly. "Yes, and what do you want of me?" reiterated Mercier, whose face increased this afternoon. It was an exciting moment and the audience jumped to its feet expecting a personal encounter between Mercier and Labori.

The prisoner arose once during Mercier's testimony to emphasize his points relative to the secret evidence produced against him at the former trial and then he explained the only document shown him on that occasion. When Gen. Ribes gave his ideas why Dreyfus was guilty Dreyfus gave an answer and cried: "Phrases are valueless bring the proofs."

Major Cure, who was detailed by Picquart to investigate Esterhazy's character testified that Esterhazy was always having things copied. Further testimony unfavorable to Esterhazy was given.

A few unimportant witnesses were examined and then court adjourned. The proceedings today were generally marked by the paucity of new evidence.

STOLE A DRESS.

Mary Paschall In Hoc on Charge of Petty Larceny.

Mary Paschall, colored, was arrested last night on a charge of stealing a silk dress belonging to Maria Goodwin. The case was called in the police court and continued until tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Robbins, for using insulting language towards Mr. J. W. O. and family, was fined $1 and costs.

Joe Scape, a colored hack driver, was charged with striking a boy and the case was left open until tomorrow.

The case against Bob Davis, colored, charged with whipping his wife, was continued until tomorrow. He was not present when his name was called and an attachment was ordered issued against him, but he came in before it was done.

The fast driving case against Jim Hubbard was dismissed.

ROBBERS IN HOC.

Are Charged With Robbing in Broad daylight Yesterday.

James Ellis, colored, was arrested near the levee yesterday afternoon by Officer Jones on a charge of complicity in the robbery of Tom Mosely, a colored railroad. Another man accused of complicity, Henry Minnins, was arrested about Washington streets. About a dollar and a half was found on the men.

Mosely claims that they met him down near an alley on lower Court and took the money away from him, there being three in the crowd. One drew a knife, one a brick, while the third went through him.

The prisoners were put in jail and the case against them called in the police court this morning and continued until tomorrow.

NEW TELEPHONES ARRIVE.

The East Tennessee Telephone company has received about two hundred new telephones, and the linemen are putting them in as rapidly as possible, wagon load after wagon load being placed every day.

The phones are said to be a great improvement, and when all the telephones are new, the service will improve.

PRIVILEGES FOR SALE.

All persons desiring to bid on all or separate privileges for Labor Day celebration at La Belle park, Sept. 4, send same sealed to Peter Smith, 907 Jackson street, Paducah, Ky. Bids will be closed August 30. 1 24a5t SAMUEL SIMON, Manager.

WILLIE PRYOR.

Willie Pryor, the negro vaudeville star, was arrested yesterday on a charge of throwing a stone at Willis Hunt, was arrested by Constable H. H. H. this morning and his case is set for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning before Justice Emory.

STILL HOLDS OUT.

PARIS, August 24.—Guérin and his anti-Semite followers still hold the fort in Rue Chabrol. Continued attempts to get food for Guérin causes the belief that the besieged party has consumed its edibles and must soon surrender.

MORE TROOPS.

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 24.—The transport Newport, with two companies of the Nineteenth infantry, arrived today from San Francisco.

SUIT AGAINST WHITE.

Attorney Montague Lyon, of St. Louis, and a gentleman named Leffingwell, of the same place, arrived today and this afternoon Attorney Lyon filed suit in the circuit court against Sewerage Contractor Linn White for $2200 for the Laidley Fire Brick Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis.

It is alleged that the money claimed is due to sewer pipe Contractor White bought and failed to pay for.

CAPT BEATY RESIGNS

He will be succeeded by Capt. Sam Johnson, of the city.

The list of dead and missing in the Carolina coast hurricane now foots up to 35.

COMING SEPTEMBER 28.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Admiral Dewey in reply to the request, called to him today notified the local reception committee that he would arrive here September 28.

MORE DEFINITE.

Paducah Street Fair Association is the Name of the New Organization.

Permanent Officers Elected at a Meeting Held Last Night—Committee Appointed.

The street fair project is assuming definite shape. Last night the meeting of interested citizens was called to order by Chairman Pro Tem J. D. Robertson, who announced that the meeting was called for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization of the street fair association. On motion of Mr. Jones the election of permanent officers was entered into.

Dr. J. D. Robertson was nominated for permanent chairman.

Mr. Ed O. Leigh was chosen recording secretary by acclamation.

Mr. Geo. H. Dains was elected corresponding secretary by acclamation.

Secretary Leigh read articles of incorporation which he had prepared. Councilman Geo. Jones spoke against incorporation. He said a street fair, to be successful, must be run "wide open," and it would not do to form an association that could be prosecuted.

Attorney Lightfoot moved that the articles of incorporation be adopted as rules and regulations. The clause providing for incorporation being eliminated.

A committee composed of Attorney Lightfoot and Messrs. G. H. Dains and Chas. Weille was appointed to modify the articles of incorporation to conform to the ideas proposed by Mr. Lightfoot.

The committee made its report, the name adopted being the "Paducah Street Fair Association," to which membership may be had by any subscription made to further the project.

It was moved and carried to appoint a committee of five to interrogate the merchants and others and determine the feasibility of holding a street fair and report at a subsequent meeting.

Mr. Jones stated that before too much time and trouble were taken with the project, he deemed it advisable before going any farther to appoint a committee to confer with the various authorities, including the mayor of the city, and ascertain if there is going to be any hereafter or "back-lash" to it.

The committee appointed were: A. N. Clarke, Chas. Weille, John R. G. Ditzel, W. F. Paxton, Henry Fetter, Geo. Jones and R. T. Lightfoot.

Attorney Lightfoot made a few remarks relative to approaching the authorities about the fair. He said the association should not go to it until it learned how far it could go. He said no one could ask the authorities to obligate themselves not to prosecute anyone for violations of the law. Of course no vicious in-fractions of the law or indecencies will be permitted.

Mr. Ditzel, who has given a great deal of time to the project, stated that it would cost about $6,000. About half has been promised.

The meeting, after a miscellaneous discussion, adjourned until next Wednesday.

MUST HAVE STAMPS.

Disagreeable Surprise for the Saloon Keepers.

Mayor Lang this morning stated that he would immediately notify all saloon keepers that they must call at the city hall and affix revenue stamps to the bonds they executed when their licenses were issued, for good behavior and orderly houses. The stamps will cost, aggregately, about $200, and in addition there is a penalty of $10 for failure to affix the stamps provided in the law governing the matter.

Nothing was known of the requirement to place stamps on these bonds until two revenue agents dropped in the city clerk's office not long since and in looking over the papers ordered stamps placed on all official bonds of police officers as well as on the saloon bonds mentioned above. Mayor Lang sent out and bought the stamps for the police bonds, at a cost of $30 but demurred to placing stamps on the other bonds, and asked the revenue men to write to headquarters. Thus far he has heard nothing from it, but the following clipping from a Louisville paper convinced him that the stamps had been decided necessary:

"The internal revenue collector's office was again crowded yesterday with saloonkeepers who were there for the purpose of securing stamps to affix to their bonds for good behavior given to the city. They are still hoping that the penalty of $10 for their failure to affix stamps to the bonds given last year will be remitted by the commissioner. Collector Sapp left for the east yesterday afternoon and will call on the commissioner regarding the matter during his absence. Mr. Sapp is disposed to remit the fines but cannot do so unless the commissioner so decides. The saloonkeepers are much wrought up over the matter, and are censuring the sinking fund commissioners in strong terms for not notifying them that it was necessary to stamp the bonds. It was learned yesterday that only one saloonist has paid the fine, the remainder holding back until a decision is received from the commissioner."

No stamps were placed on the bonds last year, however, when the revenue law was in effect, and it appears from the above that Paducah saloonkeepers are liable for not having done so. It is hoped that the matter will be adjusted to the satisfaction of everybody and that the proper authorities will see that the Paducah saloonkeepers are treated fairly, as they knew nothing about it.

HOMEMADE PHILOSOPHY.

When we begin to look up the big thieves the little wuns will have no pace-makers.

The Trust is a bully feller—so long as he robs the other chap. That's what we all say.

Sum men are too honest too git put in jail, and sum too slick at stealin too ever git cut at it.

Sivilize the heathen, and make him pay sumpbody for his grave when he dize, or git put in the potters field.

To often them that preach the severest sermon to the little rougues, how and skrape and truckle to the big raskals.

A man may say a good many hard things erbout Trusts, but when they say, "Throw up yoore hands;" wy up they goze.

It is so much easier to drift with the crowd than to oppose it; but if the driftin crowd gits damned, yoo git the same dose.

Beware of the blind enthusiazum ov the deluded common peepul. They are just as patriotic wen they are rong, az wen they are right.

If a man wont wurk he haz no rite to cete anything but suppe. God helps him too have no consiensiousness about takin everything in sight.

No odds how crude and crool a manze religius faith may be, he stands with his sleeves rolled up and roddy to kill the man hoo sez he haz got a better one.

Behind the oppresshun and tyranny ov every grindin trust and monopoly, there is a law too legalizeth thare inyoomanity. Change the law before yoo set up a howl.

Truth in thinkin is no more than a wider range ov mental sight. It is but yooman and mortal. We dont think right today, becaws we ar only about half developed.

If, away back in the dark ages, men had bin tot leg worship the man hoo could invent a plow, instead of lookin up strange gods, the stream ov yooman love wud now be at hy tide.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1899.

Is Goebel's stool pigeon Redwine still on the stump? He should be fired as the child of a bad deal if not a foul egg.

Would be Senator Blackburn be going to lose the race that he ever for got Sanford and look up Goebel.

Goebel and Goebelsm go down to the bottom of the sea in November. In the sweet hereafter they may be found, but it is doubtful. They are too heavy to ever rise again.

The Republican party has always been against illegal and unjust combinations of capital and as proof of it look at the McKinley law against such things, and the anti-trust law by John Sherman.

The Democrats outside of the state will be just as well posted as those within the state after the November election. Then will these needlers feel like they had dropped something, if they will be able to feel at all. The people of Kentucky better understand themselves than any one else.

The Populists are naming tickets for the legislature and denouncing Goebelsm wherever they speak. There is, by the way, an effort on foot to nominate a Populist candidate in this county and get the endorsement of the Goebel opposition for the gentleman. If this should be done a very formidable aspirant would be placed on the track.

Goebel and his imitators continue to roast the Haldeman papers for all they are worth. And yet these same papers are legging for the Kenton county bulldozer with all the might if not all the talent they are able to command. The old independency of the C. J. and his brat, the Times, seems to have oozed at the pocket-book at last.

Carter Harrison, with his hide foul Chicago politics, is to come to Kentucky to tell the people why they should vote for Goebel, and it will be a pretty mess of an endorsement too. Why, just to make the Democrats sick enough to die, don't the bulldozers ask John McLean to leave his gubernatorial fight in Ohio and come over to help matters go to the denunciation howl.

The out of the state help being called to assist the Goebelsm went down much good. The people, with their usual hospitality, will hear these men, but as they know nothing of Kentucky politics as existing what they have to say will have no weight. The Kentucky fight is one in which no outsider is interested and they will, remembering the usual fate of the meddler in family broils, keep out of it if they would not get their heads bruised.

The more the press has to say about the political record of Mr. Goebel the less reason the people have to think he has any record of any kind except of having becoming remarkably rich from handling an estate left in his central by a friend and also of having proved a good shot on one occasion. All other fitnesses to have been in the shade by these accomplishments.

New York is figuring on 500,000 strangers to be in that city when Dewey comes to town on 29th prox. The hotels say they can accommodate such a crowd and if they can't the bunco steers will not let any of them get away with more than a small part of their wealth. Five hundred thousand people to see Dewey. What a jam that will be, and yet what a small portion of this great country's patriots will the number really in cide.

The Goebel bulldozers if not slanders are firing the ministers of the state by their references to the position some of the church people are taking in the state canvass. These bulldozers don't seem to think the ministers have as much right to their views as they have to theirs, and because the ministers dare to think for themselves and to express their thoughts the Goebels grow very abusive toward them. The Goebels have clearly gone mad in their efforts to rule and to ruin state affairs, and that this is the case no other evidence seems necessary than their present attitude in this fight toward the ministers, 75 per cent of whom are denouncing Goebel and Goebelsm in strong terms.

The mistakes of Moses, of which the late Mr. Ingersoll prated much, were nothing in comparison with the mistakes of some of Paducah's officials. Moses made a few, as all men do, but the city's officials make them all the time.

There are issues enough in this campaign to arouse the people of Kentucky to efficient activity for self preservation. They are going to shake Kentucky from end to end, and they are going to purify it of Goebelsm and of its whole hideous train of robbery and outlavery and disfranchisement.

It would be just to the people of the state, the people more than any one else, if the facts of the killing of John Sanford by Mr. Goebel in Covington, a few years since, were published. There are too many stories afloat about the shooting and the truth suffers, no doubt.

If there were more Laboris in France and fewer Merciers and others of his kind what a great country that land would become. As the army element of the young republic is too much like the office holding public of this country—sure for self, that for states, and the sufferers are the people whom they are chosen to serve but whom they instead boss.

The democratic stump orators are devoting more of their time to slandering their opponents than they are to arguing their position in the contest before the people. The only clean and meritorious fight for office is the one being made by the Republicans and it is going to win in November upon its merits and not upon the evil grounds of jealousy, slander, hatred, etc.

NAILS GOEBEL.

Colson Says He Did Not Serve as an Election Officer.

UMONTOWN, Ky., Aug. 24.—The following correspondence between Mr. J. W. Thomason, of this place, and Col. David Colson, of Middlesboro, is self-explanatory:

UNIONTOWN, Ky., Aug. 14.—The Hon. David G. Colson: Dear Sir—In his Mayfield speech in defense of his election law, Mr. Goebel is quoted as follows: "The records of the Bell county court show that a remarkable fact concerning the election officers appointed by the county judge of Bell county for one of the precincts of the town of Middleboro was the Hon. David G. Colson, then the republican member of congress for that district, and a candidate for reelection in that election." I believed this statement untrue, and write you for information. Please give me the facts. Respectfully,

J. W. THOMASON.
MIDDLESBORO, Ky., Aug. 19.—J. W. Thomason, Esq., Uniontown, Ky.: Dear Sir—I was not appointed, an election officer in 1896, nor did I serve as such in that or any other year. Any statement to the contrary is untrue. The clerk of the Bell county court has made a certificate to the facts herein stated. Very truly yours,

DAVID G. COLSON.

THE ELKS' EXCURSION.

It Will Take Place Next Tuesday—Dick Fowler Goes to Cairo.

The committee appointed by Paducah lodge No. 217, B. P. O. Elks, has decided to give the Elks excursion to Cairo, talked of for some time, next Tuesday.

The Dick Fowler will go down with the Elks, their friends and families, and all others who desire to go. Every one who goes is assured a pleasant trip.

Arrangements will be completed for the excursion at tonight's meeting of the Elks.

HAS REPENTED.

Mrs. Farley, Now in Paducah, Wants Her Children.

County Judge Rochester has received a letter from Mrs. Farley, mother of the little waifs left at the depot, imploring him to send the children to her at Paducah, and repenting her desertion of them, says the Marion Press. This will not be done. Two or three parties have offered to take the oldest child, and the fiscal court directed the judge to find a home for the younger one without sending it to the poor house.

BIG LOCOMOTIVES.

The Illinois Central Has Two of the Largest Ever Made.

The Illinois Central road has had two of the largest locomotives constructed for its use that have been made. The engines will be put in service within the next two weeks. The monsters have just been completed by the Brooks Locomotive works, and are on their way to Chicago. Each will weigh, including tenders, 325,000, or more than 162 tons. They are to be an expert night and day hauling engine, and will haul trains over the hilly section of the Illinois Central system, which is between Carbondale, Ill., and Fulton, Ky., a distance of about 100 miles. These big engines have proved a success on several of the western roads traversing the Rocky mountains, especially on the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads, but they were not so heavy as the two in question.

The engines are guaranteed by the builders to pull 2,000 tons, or 100 car loads of 40,000 pounds to the car. The guarantee stipulates either hilly or flat country.

This is between 700 and 800 tons more than the strongest engine on the Central system is capable of hauling. The boilers of the new locomotives will be 6 feet and 8 inches in diameter, and will stand 210 pounds of steam, the pressure on the average engine now in use being 165 pounds. The fire boxes are 11 feet long and 3 feet 6 inches wide. In each boiler will be 410 fires 2 inches in diameter. The cylinders will be 23 inches in diameter and 30 inches long.

On the stretch that has been selected to try the new engines the grades run as high as 40 feet to the mile, interspersed with five-degree curves. The line from Carbondale to Fulton includes the bridge over the Ohio river at Cairo.

"The makers of these engines say they are the largest they have ever built," said Superintendent of Machinery Renshaw of the Illinois Central recently. "The day of big engines is here. Rates have been hammered down to a point where the only way a railroad can make anything is by reducing expenses through the avenues of long trains, and of course it requires big engines to pull big trains."

AWFUL AGONY.

PORTLAND, Mich., August 24.—Mrs. Lottie Calkins, an organizer for the Royal Circle, went to a spring and drank a glass of water. She felt something crawling down her throat. From that day she became an invalid, and the doctors consented to try and remove the animal, which the patient was sure had found its way into her stomach. Of the treatment has been along this line, and portions of a lizard had been coming to the surface, while the woman's health is improving. Each time the medicine was administered she could feel the lizard digging at her throat, and her mental suffering has nearly equaled the physical pain.

Chairman Bridgeford, of the Populist state central committee, announces that their campaign for state offices will begin on Labor day, Monday, September 4. He says that every Populist in the state able to make a speech will be on the stump on that day and that "Cyclone" Davis, of Texas; "Golden Rule" Jones, of Ohio; Jerry Simpson, Tom Watson, and others will be asked to come into state.

THE FALL ELECTIONS.

The following states will hold elections in November.

Iowa—Governor, state officers and legislature.

Kentucky—Governor and other state officers.

Maryland—Governor and both houses of the legislature.

Massachusetts—Governor, state officers and both houses of the legislature.

Mississippi—Governor, state officers and legislature.

Nebraska—Justices of the supreme court and two members of the board of regents of the State university.

New Jersey—Eight state senators and sixty members of the assembly.

Wear Men's Gloves. The latest masculine wrinkle which girls affect is masculine gloves, not gloves made in a man's style and fitting the feminine hand, but gloves that are cut on masculine lines, designed for masculine wearing, and buttoned with the single button that holds together the abbreviated kid wrist. The gloves are short and square and made of heavy dogskin and stitched markedly in white. The fingers are big and clumsy, and the entire glove is almost twice the size which the girl ordinarily affects. The bigger the glove the more stylish the result. The masculine glove is entirely in keeping with the stubby, ugly masculine shoe.

"Is this what dey gits waits for?" man, any what in de kentry?" asked the man, who assumed the important air of spokesman for the occasion.
"Yes you can get a warrant for a

HER MAJESTY AND "TIM."
The Dog Was Taken Into the Queen's Carriage.
"Tim," the half-breed Irish and Aldane terrier who collects contributions at Paddington station for the widows and orphans' fund of the Great Western railway, was presented to her majesty the queen on Monday. As the royal carriage rolled up to the station, Sir John McNeill drew the attention of Princess Henry of Battenberg to the dog, and the princess spoke to her majesty, who was so interested in the story of "Tim," that she at once directed that he be brought forward to her carriage. Inspector Bush, on whom the order devolved, captured "Tim,"
who was rather negligently groomed for a royal reception, and brought him into the presence of the queen. She was sitting on the off side of the carriage and the dog was brought up to the further side. Her majesty smiled when "Tim" was held up for royal inspection, and remarked that he was "a noble old dog," while the princess dropped a sovereign into the dog's bowl. When placed on the ground, "Tim" stood up on his hind legs and barked
"Thank you" three times—a trick taught him by the stationmaster.
—The dog ran off to renew an interrupted interview with a rat. "Tim" has been collecting for over seven years at the Paddington station, and during that time has taken in just $1,940. His daily receipts have never fallen below ninepence, while they once rose as high as 25 shillings. He has never had a blank day. As a special reward for his services the authorities permit him to go unmuzzled, and so far he has not forfeited his privilege by biting any one.—New York Journal.

LAMP VEILS.
New Articles for Beautifying Effects.
The lamp shade has given way to the lamp veil as an ornament. The latter is certainly very graceful, and is easily adapted to any sort of a lamp or light. It is very rich in color and design, and is made of silk, about the size of a large handkerchief. The veils have a round hole in the center for the lamp chimney or the cord of an electric light, and drape beautifully over the round globe of the white shades of the electric light. While lamp veils as such are on sale at the stores, there is no reason why they should not be manufactured at home of materials to match the decorations and furnishings of the room for which they are intended. Their very simplicity makes their manufacture most easy. The square ones are the prettiest in effect when draped, as the globe or flat shades are all round, and the corners hang naturally in pretty cascades. If a transparent silk of a pretty all-over pattern is used, the edges are usually left perfectly plain. Especially is this true when the beautiful gauzes and the grannies are used, as the designs are in all shades of the rainbow, and are sufficient ornament without any further trimmings. The plain shades, however, are edged with lace or fringe of a very thin and light character. Some of these veils are trimmed with the shirred ribbons and others with the lace ruffles, but all are arranged to heighten the effect through this transparent veil.

Preserving Wood.
A curious by-product of zinc is chlo-ride of zinc, which formerly was waste, but now is used as a wood preservative by railroads, bridge-builders and dock-builders, and for the preservation of shingles, clapboards, pillars and any other wood that is exposed to moisture or influences that cause decay. The salts of zinc, in solution, by hydraulic pressure are forced into the pores of the wood, which is then soaked in a strong solution of zinc. The ties and the pilings now used on the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific and other Western roads are treated in this manner. The railway companies named use from 3,000, 600 to 4,000,000 pounds a year each.
With this treatment a pine tie, which is the only kind that can be found out in the mountain country, will last three times as long as one of oak—

The Value of Railroad Ties.
The valuable paper communicated by Mr. Benson to the recent international railway congress, as translated by the Scientific American, shows the results gained during some twenty years of experimental work carried out by the Lodge-Lansburg railway, Belgium, on which various kinds of ties have been tested on different sections of the road. For comparison, a part of the road was laid with oak sleepers, and identical conditions assured as to nature of roadbed, drainage, weight of rail, care in maintenance, etc. The metal tie varied in shape and quality from the crude forms of the earliest ties to the more scientifically designed later article. It was found that the average life of the oak ties was thirty-three years, while the average life of the earliest and crudest metal ties was eighteen years. The latter ties have their width decreased and their vertical flanges deepened at the center, thus providing a minimum bearing surface immediately beneath the rails, and increased girder depth at the center.

WILHELM AND THE HAIRDYE.
The Empress Would Use It in Spite of Her Orders.
The German empress has passed through troublous times of late. She has had a sad time with her hair.
When the silver threads began to come the empress was very much depressed about it, and an accommodating friend got her a bottle of hair dye, "warranted harmless." The misguided empress used it, with the usual dire results. She would gladly have gone into retirement for awhile, but that was impossible, and with fear and trembling she presented herself at the next family meal. The august William gave her one awful look and then demanded the bottle. In vain she protested that there was no bottle. The emperor searched until he found it, when he disposed at one fell swoop of the stuff and the man who had sold it. But the empress was not to be daunted, and at her request a friend sent to Paris for another dye, which was duly applied. The very next morning the emperor eyed his wife with wrath, demanding who had sold her "that gilding so shameful to see on the head of a mother and a spouse."
So that bottle went the way of the first. The empress did not fancy going about in motley, so far as her hair was concerned, so she again appealed and she sold her to procure something which would completely bleach the hair. The final experiment is said to have been successful. So young and yet so false! It is impossible to believe that the honny brown-haired empress is now a white-haired old woman.—London Mail.

White muslin curtains for windows will be much used this year in summer houses. The frilled border is out of fashion and an embroidered open work edge is in vogue. That this launder may be one secret of its popularity.
These curtains with the flat openwork border and an embroidered design scattered over the surface may be bought for a very small sum. The new dotted Swiss curtains with a scalloped edge are extremely dainty and pretty for summer draperies. The dot is large enough to be conspicuous.

LOCAL LINES.

—Burglars entered the home of Mr. Joe Gardner at Fifth and Clark yesterday morning, and took all the provisions in sight.

—The Ramsey society will give a boat excursion on the steamer Bettie Owen Friday evening to Metropolis. Delightful refreshments will be served and everything has been arranged to make the trip a pleasant one. The boat will leave at 8 o'clock. Tickets will be sold for 25 cents.

—Will Mosby, a colored I. C. brakeman, complained at police headquarters last evening that he had $3 taken from him on Ninth street near Washington. There is no clue.

—The case of the bank of Martin, Tenn., vs. S. H. Cassidy, is to be called at Edinville today. Attorney John K. Hendrick, of the city, is an attorney in the case.

—A widow giving the name of Deninger, who said her people all died recently near Henderson, was today sent to Olmstead, Ill., by the city.

—Mr. Jesse Fryar, of the Register force, was called to his old home in Decaturville, Tenn., by the illness of his sister, Miss Clara, who died before he reached there.

—Mr. Arthur Glass was painfully injured yesterday afternoon by being struck over the eye by a piece of flying iron. At last accounts he was resting easy at his home on Adams street.

—The Elks will meet tonight in regular session and every member is requested to be present, as arrangements will be completed for the excursion to Cairo Tuesday.

—John Aaron, a restaurant keeper, was arrested this morning about noon by Marshal Collins on a charge of striking a negro. He gave bond for his appearance.

—Last night was quite cool, a fog being almost created. This morning opened and promised a pleasant day, but the atmosphere in the forenoon became warm and the day has been very summerish. The season of cool nights and warm days will have to be more careful than heretofore or there will be an increase in the amount of sickness among them.

—This morning the county road workers began work on the Pool road, near the city, and it will be put in the best possible condition before it is left.

—The school supply exchange today filed suit in the circuit court against J. M. Rice, on his bond, to collect a debt of $44.

—Mrs. Eugene Bush was called to Unionville, Ill., this afternoon by the information that the child of Oscar Hall, of that place, and a relative was in a dying condition.

—The Gospel wagon will be at Yeller's park tonight. Good music and good speakers. All are invited.

—The Taylor club will meet tomorrow evening in its hall over Lee's wallpaper store. All members are asked to be present.

—The Sun, by request, extends the thanks of Rev. Mr. Cummins and family to the people of Mechanicsburg and N. C. and St. L. shops for assistance and kindness shown them during their sickness.

—A man named Churchill, of South Fourth street, had a congestive chill this morning.

—President Stuyvesant Fish and party, of the Illinois Central, passed through on the east bound passenger train this afternoon en route to Louisville.

—Mr. J. W. Higgins, superintendent of Transportation on the Illinois Central, passed through the city last night on his private car No. 8, en route to Louisville.

—The National Building and Loan company this afternoon filed a suit against C. C. Lee for $471.13 claimed.

THE GIRL DISAPPEARED.

Lena Artridge, the girl who was to have been taken to the Epworth League home last night by Frank Peyton, of the Hazlewood section, gave him the slip last night and can not be found. She was all ready for the steat but in some manner managed to escape, and it is not known where she went. She was formerly an inmate of the Home of the Friendless.

TESTIMONIAL MUSICAL.

The Sun some days since announced that Mr. Harry Gilbert and his young friend George Smith, of Louisville, were to have a testimonial musicale in this city at an early date. The affair has now been arranged and on the 5th of September, in the M. C. A. hall, the musicale will be held. The friends of these young musicians, especially those of Mr. Gilbert, will see that he has a large audience, for he has won this by his service to the public and his devotion to his art.

If your house interferes or forges J. V. Greif, 319 Court street, will correct it. 24a10c

NO CONTRACT YET.

It is not yet all in for the erection of the new office building at Fourth and Broadway by Friedman & Keller. It was expected that matters would be so the contract would be let last Monday.

If you want your horse well shod send him to J. V. Greif, 319 Court street. 24a10c

DIES NEAR BROOKLYN, ILL.

Mr. Joseph Meares, one of the oldest citizens of Massac county, Ill., died last night at his home near Brooklyn, from general debility, after a lengthy illness. He was an old settler, and leaves no family. He was about 75 years old.

ELEVATOR CONDUCTOR.

Hiram B. Davis, the colored barber, was this morning appointed conductor for the government elevator in the custom house, which is about complete, and will be run for the benefit of the public next week. He received his appointment from the treasury department at Washington, but it is only a temporary appointment, the position being one under civil service, and the appointment just made being until the examination of applicants for the place. The examination may not take place for some time. Unless Davis then passes the best examination he will have to vacate in favor of the applicant who does.

APPOINTMENT PERMANENT.

Master Mechanic M. S. Curley this morning received the authority to appoint Mr. James L. Keegan general foreman of the Illinois Central shops here. Mr. Keegan has held the position temporarily for several months, having been appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Carl Strom, who went to Chicago.

Mr. Keegan is a popular gentleman, and his many friends will be glad to learn that his appointment is now made permanent.

AT THE PARK.

The last production of "An Artist's Life" was given to a full and successful audience at the park last night. Tonight the bill changes and "Hickory Farm," New England comedy drama of great merit, will be produced. The new leading man, James J. Winter, arrived this afternoon and will be seen in tonight's bill.

WHAT'S NEXT AT THE ARCADE?

Two negroes employed in reconstruction on the street railway line at New Orleans were killed by an electric shock. Others were injured.

THE RIVER NEWS.

Cairo 12, fall.
Chattanooga 1.3, fall.
Evansville 5.1, fall.
Florence 5, fall.
Johnsboro 1.5, stand.
Louisville 4, fall.
Mt. Carmel 1.5, fall.
Nashville 2, fall.
Paducah 4, fall.
Pittsburg 5, fall.
St. Louis 9.1, fall.

That crowd of St. Louis beauties making a round trip excursion on the City of Sheffield will arrive tomorrow morning on their way to the wilds of Tennessee river. The "marshes" of Paducah should not lose the opportunity of meeting the girls, as they are "marshes."

Eph Ballowe, the well known Tennessee river pilot, is in the city just after a long trip up Tennessee river.

The Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee rivers will make things very troublesome for steam boating during the balance of this month and part of next, as all the above streams are falling from "head to foot." The Mississippi also is falling fast, and the lowest water for many months is now quoted at St. Louis.

The large sand digger named Anchor, from Evansville, is in the hands of Young Taylor. He has it run out on the docks and his crew are repairing all weak points.

The steamers Sunshine, W. C. Hite and E. G. Ragon all got hard aground last Tuesday evening a short distance below Louisville. The Hite and Sunshine had about 750 excursionists each on board, making 1500 people. They were on return home from the annual excursion of some order at Louisville. The Ragon was from Evansville on her regular trip to Louisville when she got in the same trap. All three boats grounded on the dam at Fountain Ferry, near the Indiana side. After working hard for six hours the excursion boats got off and landed their people about midnight at Portland. The Ragon was still there yesterday morning.

The steamer Tennessee is due tonight from Tennessee river, Captain King Hale in command.

The Dick Fowler got off handsomely this morning for Cairo with a big trip of people. She will lay up at the close of this week's work for some repairs. The Joe Fowler will be substituted to fill her place, leaving on her first trip next Monday morning.

Captain L. Brunner, one of the owners of the Onatchita, now being rebuilt here, has decided to change the name of his boat, and christen her Fred A. Bank in honor of one of the most popular steamboatmen that ever navigated southern waters.

Several of the best landings between here and Cairo are shut out on account of low water. Sharp's bar, at the head of the Chain, is the only trouble-free place in the channel, but could be obliterated if the government would build a dike at the head of the bar.

INJURED BY A FALL.

Mr. Parker Chastaine Meets With an Accident.

Mr. Parker Chastaine was one of a party of hay riders who went out the Cairo road last night. He was sitting in the large wagon leaning against a slat in the side, when the slat broke and precipitated him to the ground. The flesh on the inside of his left hand was painfully torn, and he will be prevented from using it for several days, at least. Mr. Chastaine dressed the injury.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

Jim Smith the Victim of a Violent Animal.

Mr. Jim Smith, the well-known drummer, and son of Capt. J. R. Smith, had Capt. Joe Fowler's mad stone applied to a wound over his eye this morning. He was bitten by a dog at home. The animal acted strangely and when Mr. Smith stooped over to make an examination the animal snapped him, inflicting quite a painful wound.

The application of the stone was a success, and the dog will be killed, if it has not already been slaughtered.

INTERVIEWING POLITICIANS.

Mr. W. P. Campbell, a staff correspondent of the Cincinnati Post, is in the city for the purpose of interviewing politicians, and others who profess to be informed as to the political situation. Mr. Campbell
